(KGTV) - A Madera man allegedly used a hammer to kill his wife and brother-in-law after a six-day search that left the Madera County Sheriff's Office frustrated. Around 3:15 a.m. on Friday, Madera detectives were looking for Jesse Butler, 51, in connection to his wife's death. They were quickly on Butler's trail when they learned he had gone to his brother-in-law's home in Madera and killed him. "He was extremely lucky. It looked like the person on the ground was asleep and didn't have a chance. The officer had a chance, maybe 50/50 to knock this guy out," said Madera County Sheriff Mike Dunleavy. Officers said Butler then went to the home of his sister-in-law in Madera, but she had moved. He later told detectives where he had stayed, in an area where a person could see an outside wall from a vehicle. "I had no idea he was that close to me," said Butler's sister-in-law. The Madera County Sheriff's Office and California Department of Corrections launched a multiagency search for Butler over the weekend. "Criminals who can get away with murder aren't going to be caught," Dunleavy said. "They're going to have to get away again. It's 50b96ab0b6
